What should I know by the end?		Numbers				What should I be able to do by the end?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Learning a new language helps us to understand the world and communicate with others. France is a country in Europe. You can travel from England to France by plane, ferry or through the Channel tunnel (on the Eurostar train or the car train). Paris is France's capital city. Here you can find the famous landmark, the Eiffel Tower. Some traditional French foods include croissants, baguettes and escargots (snails). In France, most people speak and write in French. In French, there are different sounds to the sounds we have learned in phonics and spellings. For example, the sound 'oi' in French is pronounced /wa/. Some French words look the same as English, but they may sound different e.g. six is spelled the same but sounds different in each language. 		zéro	0	six	6	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Locate France on a map. Greet someone and introduce myself. Ask how someone is feeling and say how I am feeling. Count to 10. Identify colours. Give a simple opinion about a colour.
